20	"Mike: What's the strangest thing you ever grew from a seed? Luke: Heh heh. You don't wanna hear the answer to that question. Mike: I mean other than drugs, of course. Luke: I grew an Avocado one time. Mike: Out of the stone? Luke: Yeah, but I never worked out how to get them to grow really big. After a while they all seemed to just die back. Mike: Anything else? Luke: I've got little grapefruits, oranges and lemons going, but they never amount to much either. I don't really have the best conditions. But the best I ever managed was out on the stairwell one time. Mike: On the stairwell? Luke: Yes, I came home needing the bog, like, urgently. Then I discovered I had left my keys in the locker at college. So I just had to crimp one out and the only place to do it was in the pot of this yucca plant that actually belonged to the neighbour. Mike: You crapped in your neighbour's plant pot? Luke: Yeah. Well, I couldn't just go back to college leaving this sticking soft shit on view in my neighbour's plant pot so I managed to cover it over with soil from another pot and hide it. Mike: And she never found out? Luke: I went to get the keys, came back. There was a slight smell and I opened the windows, thought no more about it. Mike: And what grew from that then, a shit plant? Luke: Nope, a few weeks later a lot of tomatoes started to appear. The funniest thing about it was the neighbour took it all at face value and just harvested the tomatoes and ate them when they appeared." 50	Clara: Hi, what are you up to? Neela: Not much, chilling out. Clara: Just rewatching Dear White People on Netflix, love it! Neela: Oh yeah, heard of it, but not seen it yet? Any good? Clara: Well, yes! I just said it was, LOL. It's about a fictional Ivy League University and the students in one House of Residence. Neela: Why is it called Dear White People? Clara: That's the name of the radio show the main character, Sam, presents on college radio. Neela: Yeah, but why is it so good? Clara: Well, it's mainly stories from the perspective of black students there, which I find very interesting. The characters are strong and likable too. Neela: I suppose it's rather different from the UK, then? Clara: It seems so, as there is a lot more racial awareness and discrimination there than here. It all kicks off when there is a Blackface party held by an elite group of white students, which gets out of hand. Neela: How's that? Clara: Well, obviously, the black students try to break it up and there's also an incident where one guy, Reggie, gets a loaded gun pointed at him by a campus policeman after he gets into an argument with a white student. Neela: Oh, that sounds pretty strong stuff. What else happens? Clara: Well, there is a young black guy called Lionel who is coming to terms with being gay and is finding his voice as a journalist. Neela: Well, I must say, it does sound good, I'll check it out soon! Clara: Definitely, there is supposed to be a Series 3 coming up next year, really looking forward to it!
